Roxbury Free Library Descriptive Statistics

2025-2028 Strategic Plan

Executive Summary

All the public library data included in the tables comes from the 2022 VT. Public Library Annual Statistics report produced by the Vt. Dept. of Libraries. The 2022 data was the most contemporary data available at the time when we were working on this strategic plan. All the variables are routinely collected for the VTDOL and libraries across VT should be consistently reporting those values. For these reasons the VTDOL PLS data was the primary reference we pulled from when preparing these tables.

Since so much variation exists across the 182 VT public libraries and their respective communities, we added the Vermont Community Index (VCI) data as a means to help accurately place the RFL in comparison to other VT public libraries and communities. The VCI is a metric the VT Dept. of Finance & Management compiles that looks at community metrics to determine the needs in a community, as well as the means the community has available to address those needs.

The variables selected to be included here in this plan were chosen for their ability to represent a broad picture of the RFL's overall service and impacts to the community. Future comparisons could be made using other variables, but we felt the variables included in this plan represent a comprehensive picture of the RFL and what it was doing at the creation of this plan.

The final table (Table 14) compiles the libraries that most often showed up in proximity to the RFL based on all of the metrics presented in this plan (e.g. within 10 libraries on either side of the RFL's value for a given metric). Use of this frequency ranking was the tool we used to identify the most similar VT public library to compare the RFL with. If we are to find a "Sister" library, one of those libraries is very likely going to be the one.

Table 1: Rank of libraries based on population

19 of the 40 libraries smaller than the RFL did not report statistics for the 2023 VTDOL Report. Our actual rank is 41st out of 190 libraries based on how small the communities are.
